- Regent Visas order form
  - You will find one in our downloadable pack.
- Important Information:
  - At the interview your fingerprint will be scanned.
  - You must attend the Embassy in person on the day of the appointment.
  - If your application is approved you may need to pay an additional visa fee at the Embassy when you attend your appointment. This is dependant on your nationality. Regent Visas can advise you on this.
  - If you travel to the United States to join the vessel you will work on, in addition to a crewmember (D) visa, you also need a transit (C-1) visa or a combination C-1/D visa.
  - Crewmember (D) visa holders must depart the United States on a vessel within 29 days. The United States is defined as including the continental United States, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Guam, and the U.S. Virgin Islands. You are not considered to have departed the United States until the vessel you are on travels to international waters destined to a foreign port.
  - You may apply for a crewmember visa without being employed at the time of your visa application. However, the crewmember visa may only be used for entry to a U.S. port if you are employed on the sea vessel or aircraft on which you arrive.
  - Depending on your Nationality you may need to pay an extra fee when you have your interview at the Embassy.
